The three municipalities of Yarmouth County, comprising the Municipality of the District of Yarmouth, Municipality of Argyle, and the Town of Yarmouth have been working together on a Regional Emergency Management Organization (REMO) program. The Regional Emergency Management Executive Committee consists of 16 members with representatives from each unit, and is requesting to be considered as one unit under the Nova Scotia Emergency Management Act, Section 9(b), for the purposes of Regional Emergency Management.

The three units request authorization, under Section 9(b) of the Nova Scotia Emergency Management Act, to provide the responsibilities of municipalities in the designated area of Yarmouth County to the Regional Emergency Management Executive Committee which will enable the Regional Emergency Management Executive Committee to approve emergency management plans and policies.
